A Tip on How to Cook Carrots; Boston Mail

This is not a column on household hints and recipes, but when a subscriber sends us a clipping and asks us to reprint a recipe for oatmeal cookies—as really happened a few months ago—we are justified in an occasional diversion.

Wednesday's Wall Street Journal carried a humorous article about carrots and their marketing problems, in the course of which I picked up some new information on how carrots should be cooked.

The WSJ writer, Steven Grover, reports that a lot of people don't like carrots, and continues:

"But Julia Child, the French Chef, is sure more adults would eat carrots if only they knew how to cook them. 'Americans boil them in too much water,' she says, 'and then they throw out the water, which contains the goodness. It's insane.' (It's unlikely, however, that she could convert Dennis the Menace. In a recent cartoon, he was saying to his mother, 'Aw, you're just sayin' that. There isn't no such thing as CARROT COOKIES! Is there?' Sweat was pouring from his brow.)"

Editor the Star: Just a word from a long-time subscriber who is glad to see you back at the same old stand. Also, I want to compliment you on the Star's "new look."

I like the new lighter faced headline type which you are now using—and what you are doing with it. The front page certainly has more variety with all the multi-line, multi-column heads, and so does the sports page. Of course, you used that smaller version of your heavy, lead-story type before, but the new type comes in varied sizes and you are using it in varied ways.

Let me also pay a compliment to your proof-readers. The improvement in this area has been phenomenal. You should see the early edition of the New York Times—and our own Boston papers for that matter. You shine in comparison.

One of these days, I'm going to drop by and see your plant while I'm at home—and I'll be there in just over a week. Meanwhile, continued best wishes. Sincerely,

Riley in Favor of One-Day Inmate Program

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Riley said Thursday that if the one-day inmate program was constructive it should not be abandoned because of "one unfortunate death."

Riley said that U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley had accepted the one-day concept and that should stand as the example for the other courts in the state.

Riley said he was "extremely vexed" over the death Nov. 29 of a one-day inmate, Willie E. Stewart, 17, of Little Rock at the end of a one-day term at Cummins Prison Farm.

Stewart's death has been attributed to a form of sickle cell anemia. Testimony last week in federal court held that a tower guard had shot near Stewart's feet during the prison stay.

Nixon Vetoes $2 Billion Program for Child Care

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite adverse political implications, President Nixon has rejected an antipoverty bill creating a $2-billion program of day care and other services for children from families of all income levels.

Nixon called the measure the most radical piece of legislation to emerge from the current Congress. He said it would commit "the vast moral authority of the national government to the side of communal approaches to child rearing over against the family-centered approach."

In a veto message Thursday, he said the entire measure to extend the antipoverty program, establish an independent legal-services corporation and create the child-development program would be too costly and administratively unworkable.

Little hope is seen for mustering the necessary two-thirds congressional vote to override the President's veto.

Immediately following the veto message, however, liberal senators and representatives accused Nixon of bowing to politics in making his decision.

"President Nixon seems more interested in appeasing his radical right-wing critics than he does in making good on his commitment to America's children," said Rep. John Brademas, D-Ind., chief House sponsor of the child-development program.

Rep. Ogden R. Reid, a New York Republican who helped draft the bill, said: "The administration has bowed to politics and broken faith with America's children."

The bill was approved by the Senate, 63 to 17, last week and passed the House, 210 to 186, Tuesday even though Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford had told the GOP members Nixon would veto it.

It was understood that Democrats preferred to have Nixon make the decision and use his veto, so it could be used against him in the presidential campaign next year.

Rehnquist, 47, was opposed by some Senate liberals who have attacked his civil-rights and civil-liberties record. But Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and other opponents have never claimed the votes to block confirmation.

In advance of the vote a dispute continued over a 1962 memorandum written for the late Justice Robert H. Jackson on the position the Supreme Court should take on school-segregation cases.

Rehnquist said Wednesday he had written it while a law clerk for Jackson.

Rehnquist Vote Could Come Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate agreed today to vote on the confirmation of the Supreme Court nomination of Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist at 5 p.m.

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of the Supreme Court nomination of William H. Rehnquist try today to bring the debate to a close, forcing a vote on his confirmation.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said "the vast majority of the Senate is convinced of the merits of the nominee" and believes the time to vote has come.

A two-thirds majority is required to put into effect the Senate's debate-closing rule, and the outcome of the vote set for noon appeared in doubt.

If it succeeds, there could be a vote later in the day on confirmation of Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general and former Phoenix, Ariz., lawyer.

If debate is not cut off, another attempt will be made Saturday.

The debate on Rehnquist began Monday after the Senate confirmed, by an 89-1 vote, President Nixon's nomination of Richmond, Va., attorney Lewis F. Powell Jr., to fill a second vacancy on the Supreme Court.

Pakistan Given Little Chance of Holding Out More Than Few Days

Ceasefire Ignored, India Pushes on

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indian troops vaulted the last river barrier to Dacca today, establishing a bridgehead on the Meghna 36 miles northeast of the provincial capital, an Indian army spokesman reported.

The spokesman declared "no major obstruction" now lies in the path of the Indian army to Dacca. New dispatches from Dacca reported before communications were cut off that thousands of civilians were fleeing.

The bridgehead was established unopposed on the west bank at Ashuganj. Indian troops crossed the river—three miles wide at that point—by river steamer and helicopter, said the spokesman, Col. B. P. Rikhye in Calcutta.

People in Dacca apparently were fearful of heavy casualties if the Pakistani army makes a stand there. About 30,000 Pakistani troops are in the Dacca area and Indian warplanes are pounding them.

India also reported fighting with Pakistani troops all along the western front in Kashmir and to the south.

In East Pakistan, the spokesman continued, "the Pakistanis are holding out in certain areas but because of the speed of our advances, many of them have had a chance to flee." He explained that the Indian troops were bypassing many garrisons, and the Pakistanis there were able to escape.

"Our first priority is to capture those who are trying to flee," he said, "then go back and take on the garrisons."

He claimed the withdrawing Pakistanis were attempting to reach Barisal, a southern port, and Narayanganj, adjoining Dacca, "but our navy and air force planes have been pretty busy in those two areas."

He said some Pakistani soldiers near Narayanganj, one of the small towns that form part of an industrial complex around Dacca, were "throwing away their uniforms for civilian clothes and trying to escape in barges" down the many rivers that criss-cross the area.

But many taxpayers in higher-income brackets will find they have more deducted from their checks each week even though their tax liability has been reduced.

The reason is that there now is substantial underwithholding on these persons and the bill seeks to correct it. In this category are couples whose husband and wife work, persons earning more than $15,000 a year, and persons with two or more jobs.

The measure boosts the low-income allowance or minimum standard deduction to $1,300 next year, compared with the $1,000 now scheduled.

This will give special relief to about 25 million individuals in the lower brackets and wipe out income taxes entirely for 2.8 million of them.

Under the bill a single person with $4,000 income would get a $34 cut in 1971 and $45 in 1972. With a $7,500 income, he would get a $31 tax reduction in 1971 and $43 in 1972.

A married couple with two children and $7,500 income would pay $29 less in 1971 and $77 less in 1972. With two children and $12,500 income, the couple would get a $22 cut in 1971 and $42 in 1972.

The bill boosts the exemption to $750 in 1972. This will bring some cuts in withholding for millions of taxpayers after next Jan. 15.

Israel to Reject Plan for Any Withdrawal

By SHIRLEY CHRISTIAN
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel Foreign Minister Abba Eban goes before the General Assembly today to reject an African resolution which in effect calls for Israel to pledge withdrawal from occupied Egyptian territory.

The Soviet Union meanwhile accused Communist China and the United States of blocking peace in the Middle East.

The African resolution drafted with Egyptian participation calls for a reactivation of the special U.N. peace trusteeship of Golan Heights, which last February asked Israel to couple a pledge of troop withdrawal with an Egyptian pledge to reach a peace agreement. Israel refused.

Eban notified assembly aides he would reply to the African proposal today, and an Israeli

The report differed from the Egyptian position by calling for a withdrawal and final settlement together. The Egyptian position called for withdrawal and a settlement.

Four earlier in the debate with the Israelis would negotiate without prior conditions, and he said removal of the Israeli position would constitute such an unacceptable condition.

In the debate Thursday, Soviet Ambassador Yakov Malik charged that the United States had refused to resume the negotiations of the Middle East since the Soviet American, British and French U.N. delegates began two years ago and that Communist China's delegation has refused to participate.

We don't know whether they had any deal or agreement between them," Malik said, insisting that they did.

Wants Tech Schools Supervised Closer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special legislative subcommittee devoted Thursday to ask the attorney general's office for an opinion on whether the Pines Vocational-Technical School purchase of a tract of land from a company headed by the school's superintendent violated state law.

The Legislative Joint Auditing Committee subcommittee recommended that the state Education Department be instructed to more closely supervise what Sen. Bill Walmsley of Batesville, the subcommittee chairman, described as "any instances of self-dealing."

The subcommittee also called for more control on accounting procedures of vocational-technical schools.

In addition, the subcommittee voted to seek a study by the Arkansas Legislative Council on strengthening the state's constitutional law.

Crittenden Sheriff Is Acquitted

MARION, Ark. (AP) — A packed courtroom yelled and applauded late Thursday night when a Circuit Court jury acquitted Crittenden County Sheriff Marion Thomas on 44 counts of embezzlement of county funds.

The jury returned the verdict shortly before 11 p.m., ending a one-day trial. Thomas had been accused of embezzling more than $17,000.

Several persons gathered around Thomas when the jury returned the verdict.

I'm glad this mess is over, Thomas said. Mrs. Thomas was at her husband's side.

The jury of five white men, five black men and two black women began deliberation around 3 p.m.

Thomas had pleaded innocent. Circuit Judge John S. Mosby of Lepanto read to the jury a state law pertaining to embezzlement and noted that before a defendant may be convicted fraudulent intent must be proved.

Vincent Skillman Jr. of West Memphis, lawyer for Thomas, has indicated that political enemies caused charges to be brought against Thomas.

Skillman told the jury Thomas was being tried because he wanted to be his own man, but you know that is not permissible.

Deputy Pros. Atty. Olan Parker Jr. of Jonesboro urged the jury to do "what's right for God and country" — and to do what's right is to find Marion Thomas guilty of embezzlement and send him to the penitentiary.

Thomas originally was charged with 56 counts, but on a motion by Skillman, 12 were dismissed by Mosby earlier in the trial.

The sheriff was tried last year on other related charges and was acquitted.

Relief From Rain Is Promised

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Residents of northern and western Arkansas can breathe a sigh of relief, the rain is going to stop. At least briefly enough for mopping up operations.

Heavy rain in the Fort Smith area was flooding and several residents of the area were evacuated from their homes after a debris was dumped on their area.

Families in the Harrison area were being evacuated and the National Weather Service reported at one point that the entire Montgomery County was flooded.

A warm front moving through the state triggered the thunderstorms.

Following the line of showers were high winds. Gusts of 30 to 40 miles an hour were reported throughout the state. Little Rock's Adams Field reported gusts of 60 m.p.h. shortly after 4 a.m. today and 52 m.p.h. were reported at Fort Smith.

The showers will stop today and tonight. However, the weather service is predicting rain for most of the state Sunday.

It will turn colder Sunday, with little temperature changes Monday and Tuesday.

The highs around the state Thursday ranged from 58 at Fayetteville and Fort Smith to 71 at Pine Bluff and El Dorado.

Senate Sends Nixon Bill to Fight Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to President Nixon today a bill authorizing $1.6 billion for a stepped-up research effort to find the causes of and a cure for cancer.

The Senate completed action on the measure, which Nixon has endorsed, by a vote of 85-9. The House passed it Thursday by voice vote.

The final bill follows the House version in keeping the National Cancer Institute, which has been conducting the research for more than 30 years, in the National Institutes of Health.

The Senate had voted for a more independent status for the cancer agency, but this provoked much opposition in the biomedical research community.

However, the bill does give the Cancer Institute a more prominent status, an enlarged budget and a directive to do everything possible to conquer the disease.

The bill sets up a president's cancer attack panel which will report directly to him on progress in the research effort.

Also authorized are 15 new clinical centers for demonstration of advanced methods of treating cancer.

Ford Jumps Prices on Cars, Trucks

FORD PRICES DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today it has increased the manufacturers' suggested retail prices of its cars and trucks by an average of 2.6 percent.

The increase would average $20 per car, M.S. McLoughlin, Ford vice president-sales, said.

Ford received Price Commission approval for a 2.5 percent increase. Apparently, however, because of competitive considerations, Ford decided to stick to 2.6 percent. General Motors Corp. announced recently it was raising passenger car prices an average of 2.6 percent.

Would Clear Name of Notorious Ancestor

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
CONDE EN ERRE, France (AP) — The new Marquis de Sade lives here in the wolf gray gown of western France, his notorious ancestors' books locked up in a hall closet and his goal to rehabilitate the family name.

As part of his campaign, Xavier de Sade has revived the title of marquis which Louisette, Arphorse de Sade carried with him to the grave when he died in chains in 1814, a certified lunatic.

The new marquis says his ancestor was not a pervers, not a sadist. But looking out through the window at the gray trees studded with crows and the gray mud in his courtyard, he acknowledges that his teenage daughters are not allowed to read de Sade and he really prefers people to call him count—the title he always used—rather than marquis—that sounds a little like a masked ball, marquis, an operetta perhaps, whereas count is much simpler. You see, more well established.

The contradictions do not bother him.

"The important thing," he said, "is to re-establish the Marquis de Sade in the context of present-day life to take him as if he were alive today. Why he'd almost be an insignificant man, somebody who wouldn't get talked about at all.

Whips, torture, the pleasure in inflicting pain, the ex-quisiteness of suffering, the Marquis de Sade's glorification of evil—all that for the new marquis is just a reflection of his ancestor's times.

He wrote his life—the life of a womanizer, a dissolute man, an irresponsible man. All the big men of his time were doing the same things that he was. So they had to find a scapegoat, someone who could absorb all the dirtiness of the era and they found him," he said.

The father of five children he refers to himself as an agricultural engineer, but his chief vocation is restoring his chateau to attract paying tourists.

De Sade said his children have not suffered from their father's name, but for him as a young man "it was embarrassing to be named De Sade."

A French biographer of his ancestor, Gilbert Lely, acquainted him with De Sade's virtues as a revolutionary, civil libertarian and literary stylist.

I want to show the marquis in another life, in his misery, in his suffering because he was a great believer in freedom. He was perverse only by vengeance.

You know, we're an excellent family, one of the very best French families. But had the marquis been from the family of the Prince of Orleans or the Prince of Conde, this whole business would have been hushed up. Killing, raping, it all depends who's doing it."

Investigation of LR Gambling Nearing Finish

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal Grand Jury for the Eastern District of Arkansas was expected to wind up its business here today and make public three indictments returned last month.

U.S. Atty. W. H. Llanhanity said that "one or two" more witnesses would be called today and other indictments might possibly be returned.

Two North Little Rock businessmen who previously had refused to testify before the jury were questioned Thursday.

Joseph F. Calva, owner of the Checkmate Club, and Sammy Fowler, manager of the Town-hall Restaurant, both in North Little Rock, were the witnesses.

DAR YULE LUNCHEON

The John Cain Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the Town and Country Restaurant December 8 for its Christmas luncheon. All the traditional symbols of Yuletide were used to decorate the U-shaped table which was set with red cloths. The centerpiece held tinsel, holly and glittering tree ornaments. Decorated brass candlesticks were on the tables, and a silver candelabrum was placed on the piano.

Mrs. C. B. Voss led the opening ritual for 14 members and two guests, Mrs. James Sewell and Mrs. H. C. Whitworth. The business session was conducted by the Regent, Mrs. Paul Klipsch, and the minutes of the November meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Charles Taylor presented a program on The American Flag—Your Flag and Mine by Mrs. Ben H. Thompson of Athens, Tenn. It was pointed out that on June 14, 1777 the Continental Congress adopted the first flag, known around the world as the "Stars and Stripes" and lovingly called Old Glory. Mrs. Thompson said it should be our prayer that we never forget the history and tradition which made our flag the symbol of the highest form of government ever devised by man.

Mrs. E. F. Formby, National Defense Chairman, gave a talk on "A Real Crisis in American Life—A Disease of the Spirit." She named various things that contribute to this great malignancy of the spirit, but she stressed most the gnawing greed for the material things of life. Our lives are so filled that there is little room for the spiritual life. She closed with an appropriate poem she had written titled "The Better Gift."

Hostesses were Mrs. Otis Blackwood, Mrs. C. B. Voss, and Mrs. James Branch.

Child with Rare Disease Makes Christmas Wish

INKSTER, Mich. (AP) — Bobby Miller, whose plea for a few Christmas cards last year brought him more than a million from around the world, has a new wish this year.

The 7-year-old boy wants his new baby brother home for the holidays.

Bobby is suffering from a rare muscular disease known as Werdnig-Hoffman paralysis. A year ago, he was not expected to live to see another Christmas.

But doctors said his strong spirit has kept him alive, although his condition continues to weaken. His affliction is an hereditary disease that destroys muscle tissue.

Bobby's sister, Theresa, died in 1970 of the same disease at the age of 3.

Last Sunday, another son was born to Bobby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller. He was four weeks premature and weighed 4 pounds, 3 ounces.

The new addition has been named John Howard Miller, and doctors say they won't know for six weeks or so if the infant—placed in an incubator shortly after birth—also has inherited the disease. There are no other children in the family. Whether the parents will be allowed to bring the baby home for the holidays was uncertain.

Bobby's father, usually a truck driver, has been working recently for a housing construction company. He had difficulty finding a job as a driver because he frequently wants time off to be at Bobby's bedside when his condition worsens.

South looked over the dummy and thought: "I like that opening lead. If I trump break and I handle the diamonds properly, I should make my slam."

East false-carded the queen of trumps, but South paid no attention. His plan was to play for a 3-2 trump break. He took his king of trumps, led a diamond and finessed dummy's 10. Then he ruffed a diamond, led a trump to dummy's ace and played the ace of diamonds. When both opponents followed he showed his hand. He announced that East could take his jack of trumps anytime, but that he was going to lead out diamonds and discard spades first and then clubs.

South was lucky to make slam. He needed a good break in trumps; a good guess and good break in diamonds and playing ability to make up for his overbidding. He might have passed at four hearts. His jump to six had been an overbid.

South was lucky another way. West should have made an attacking lead. Had West opened the diamond eight or deuce the odds are that South would have gone wrong. Had West led from the spade king it would not have mattered what South did. He would have to lose a spade trick in addition to the trump loser.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Perry Como isn't on television much any more, so it was a treat Thursday night to have him strolling around, grinning benignly and, best of all, singing in that nice easy style of his.

"Perry Como's Winter Show" on NBC presented the singer in his happiest context: a holiday confederation in which his particular chores were to sing a few songs in stage center and then sort of back off to enjoy the performances of his guests.

The hour opened with a witty number, "I Can Almost Read Your Mind," whose lyrics posed—but never answered—all sorts of impertinent questions that ranged from Perry's age to the validity of guest star Mitzi Gaynor's blonde locks.

Art Carney—like Perry and Mitzi an infrequent television visitor these days—joined in the entertainment, playing in a couple of comedy sketches. Most of his jokes were twisting the language like a Mr. Malaprop. The best sketch was one in which he portrayed a lunch wagon proprietor having a fight with his waitress, played by Miss Gaynor.

High point of the hour was a production number that looked like a Currier and Ives Christmas card.

"Appointment With Destiny," broadcast on CBS at the same time, was an ambitious effort to dramatize the 1944 attempt on Adolf Hitler's life. The story of the plot to kill the German leader by members of his general staff was told by means of World War II news reel clips, narration and dramatization using actors in the principal roles.

It somehow failed to work, perhaps because it was a hybrid—neither documentary nor drama, but a bit of both.

The subject matter was certainly dramatic. It was the real story, as narrator James Mason noted, of a plot to overthrow the Third Reich which failed because it was "inefficient and inept."

The program was meticulously researched. Wherever possible, archive films were used. The company of actors went through their paces, whenever possible, where the real events took place. But reconstituting history presents problems. Actors, even when supplied with Hitler mustaches and German accents, disturb and divert the viewer when they appear between news reels showing the persons they are imitating.

LEMON CREAM

For those of you who find cold cream a must in all seasons, here's a pleasant addition to the product. Lemon. It's a nice tingly feeling you get as you clean off your make-up and moisturize your face.

SWEATER

The bulky fisherman's sweater done in black instead of traditional bone white makes a sophisticated evening suit with either pants or skirt.

THIS IS THE WAY we scrub the floor in the Israeli army—with a smile. It could be something special for the camera, or it could be how one young recruit really feels about keeping the barracks tidy.

Hubby Should Button His Lip

Dear Helen:

My husband, Joe, tells his friend (male) everything that goes on in our house. We can't have a fight (or even a make-up session) without this man knowing it.

This in turn brings whispered dirty digs from Joe's friend whenever we are together. I know I should snap back, but I'm not a fighter, and I don't like making scenes. Besides, I like the man's girl friend, who usually joins us to make a foursome, and I don't want to embarrass her. You see, no one hears these things but me.

I try begging my good husband not to tell family secrets, but he isn't the kind you can talk things out with. He just says, "It's only your imagination."

It's got to a point where I'd rather stay home than be with this couple but, because he's my husband's best friend, I can't just cut them off. What can I do?—R.C.G.

Dear R.:

Maybe you can button your husband's big mouth by developing one of your own. Next time old "Dirty Digger" makes a whispered cut, pick it up and answer him so that everyone for two tables around can hear. Explain the background in detail and be sure it comes out funny—with your husband and the butt of the joke. I think he'll soon get the message.—H.

Dear Helen:

The girl next door has a toddler, less than two years old. She spends the day beating and screaming at her. It probably isn't a case for the police—yet—for the child has no broken bones or visible bruises, but here's an example: The mother sits and watches while the little girl climbs down the front steps. Then she stops smiling, descends on the child, spans her hard, and literally drags her up the stairs by one arm. Inside, we hear more screams, as if the punishment continues. We can see the fear and tension in the child's eyes each time the mother comes close.

Often we note that the baby is up until 1 and 2 a.m. The mother isn't exactly rational. Once she attempted suicide in the middle of the street at 3 a.m., this, after her "have-too" marriage ended in divorce. She now has many dates, and sometimes even leaves her daughter alone in the house.

We don't like to make trouble, but how can we help this?—CONCERNED NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS:

When a child's welfare is at stake, concerned people SHOULD "make trouble." Make an appointment with the County Public Health Nurse, and let the authorities take it from there.—H.

Dear Helen:

It started when we were first married (six months ago). I'm 21, Jim is 22. At first, when he'd come home hot and tired, I'd just loosen his tie and unbutton his shirt. One thing led to another, and now we are first class nudists—at home. We think nothing of shedding our clothes. It seems very natural to us, just as to others, a stiff drink means relaxation. (We're non-drinkers.) Also, it makes up very compatible. We always "dress" for company, or answering the doorbell, even.

But my parents and his just don't understand. They consider us immoral. Why is it immoral to be natural, and what's more natural than skin? Really, is it any of their business?—SUSAN

Dear Susan:

No! What married people wear (or shed) in the privacy of their home is strictly between them, and parents should butt out. But they'd better telephone before they drop in for visits.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Write to Helen Bottel in care of the Hope Star.

Oral Roberts U. Revival Team Coming on Strong

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pay attention, please, the Oral Roberts University revival meeting is going strong.

"I consider us a college basketball power with a shot at the NCAA playoffs," said Coach Ken Trickey after Thursday night's 83-74 victory over Hofstra in New York's Madison Square Garden.

For you disbelievers, please consider the facts: 13 straight victories dating back to last year and an impressive record of 52-9 over three seasons.

It's all part of the school's rebuilding program under the Titans' vital, young coach. And Trickey insists that Oral Roberts will soon be a household word, like the UCLA's of this world.

"We've fought like dogs to get major teams on our schedule," said Trickey, "because we believe we can compete with the big ones."

Oral Roberts, a little-publicized independent from Tulsa, Okla., moved from the college division category to university after a couple of big years against small schools.

The sky's the limit now, says Trickey.

"We've got the talent—just let us show it off against the good teams," he said.

After the Titans overcame a 13-point deficit Thursday night to win the first game, 10th-ranked Penn demolished Manhattan 87-66 in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

In other games, Merrimack defeated Army 67-66, Rhode Island walloped New Hampshire 90-73, Boston College blasted Canisius 76-58; Syracuse tripped Cornell 95-82 and Colgate toppled Lehigh 102-91.

Furman hammered Appalachian State 101-91; Minnesota took Butler 77-56; Oklahoma turned back Stetson 94-78; Missouri trimmed Virginia Commonwealth 73-66; Texas Christian beat Wyoming 84-79; New Mexico defeated Oklahoma Christian 88-81 in overtime and Brigham Young shrugged off New Mexico State 90-80 in other key games.

Hog Cagers Even Season With Victory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas evened its season record at 2-2 Thursday night by defeating Rockhurst College of Kansas City 102-72 in a nonconference basketball game here.

Dennis White scored 18 points to lead a balanced Razorback attack. Doug Campbell scored 14 points and Dean Tolson added 13 for the Porkers.

The Razorbacks scored 62 points in the second half to break open what had been a tight ballgame. The score was tied seven times in the first half and Arkansas led by only two at halftime. The Razorbacks jumped to a 10-point lead after intermission before Rockhurst could score.

Campbell broke a school record for Arkansas by grabbing 21 rebounds. The old record of 20 rebounds was set in 1966 by John Talkington against Texas.

Tom McElroy led the losers with 23 points.

3 Pro Teams Can Clinch Division Title

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Miami, Minnesota, Kansas City.

That's the parlay for this weekend in the National Football League with all three clinching division titles and playoff berths, it says here.

The Dolphins, 9-2-1 in American Conference East, can clinch with a victory over runner-up Baltimore, 9-3. The Vikings, 9-3, can clinch in NFC Central with a victory over runner-up Detroit, 7-4-1. Both games are Saturday.

Sunday, it's the Chiefs and Raiders at it again with Kansas City, 8-3-1, in position to clinch with a victory over runner-up Oakland, 7-3-2.

But remember the guy who's telling you all this had a 5-7-1 record last week. Any way, here we go again:

Miami 24, Baltimore 17—Don Shula, former Baltimore coach now at the Miami helm, gets his revenge. Shula is a motivator and the Dolphins will motivate the Colts all over the field with Griese, Canoka, Warfield and Co. getting the job done offensively.

Minnesota 17, Detroit 7—The Vikings still have Carl Eller and Alan Page and that's what wins for them. Who the quarterback will be is Coach Bud Grant's guess but when Eller and Page are right it probably could even be Grant.

Kansas City 28, Oakland 17—The Raiders appear to be second-guessing quarterback Darley Lamonica again, and that's never good. Besides, they have to stop the Len Dawson-Otis Taylor passing combination, and that has been extremely difficult to do.

Dallas 35, New York Giants 10—The Cowboys are rolling now since Roger Staubach took over at quarterback. The Giants have only one weapon—Fran Tarkenton's passes to tight end Bob Tucker. Not enough.

Atlanta 27, San Francisco 21—Western NFC contenders battle in which the Falcons' No. 1 pass defense should be able to intercept some of the passes thrown by 49ers' John Brodie.

Atlanta 6-5-1 going in to 7-5 for San Francisco.

Los Angeles 20, Washington 17—The Rams lead NFC West at 7-4-1 going into this Monday night T-Ver while the Redskins are hanging in there in NFC East at 8-3-1. Los Angeles has more offense than Washington, and that'll do it.

Cleveland 31, New Orleans 27—Saints probably looking for an upset, but Browns' Leroy Kelly is running strong with three 100-yard games in a row and everyone knows what Willie Elison did against New Orleans last week.

New York Jets 28, New England 20—Joe Namath vs. Jim Plunkett. Namath has been on target in practice, and that should give the Jets the edge, although Pats' upset of Miami

Saints Fire Their General Manager

By ED TUNSTALL
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — There's a new image in pro football's front offices and Vic Schwenk just didn't fit that look, so today he is out as general manager of the New Orleans Saints. Or, at least, that's the way Saints' owner John Mecom views it, and his opinion does count.

Schwenk was dismissed by the youthful Mecom Thursday. It had been reported a bit earlier unofficially that Schwenk would get the axe and Mecom confirmed the move.

"There was nothing sudden about this," Mecom said in an interview. "I talked to (NFL Commissioner) Pete Rozelle two months ago and confided to him that I was dissatisfied with Vic's performance. Vic later talked to Pete and Pete told him what I thought had been a confidential conversation."

"I want to make it clear, very clear, that I have nothing but respect for Vic Schwenk and I think he can make some team a very fine general manager."

Mecom said that was one of the reasons the dismissal came at this time, with two games still on the Saints' schedule. The young son of a Texas oilman said he wants to give Schwenk as much time as possible to find a new post.

"The difference between Vic and me goes back quite a way," Mecom said, indicating that the dissatisfaction came in part during the Saints' training camp.

Mecom didn't spell it out, but made it clear the schism was deep, "a definite difference in our outlooks and philosophies."

So who will be the Saints' new general manager? Will it be retiring astronaut Richard Gordon as has been reported for some time?

"I can't say right now," Mecom said.

com said.

"Yes, he is under consideration as Schwenk's successor, but he also is being considered for jobs in other facets of the Mecom organization outside professional football."

Mecom said dismissing Schwenk "didn't come easy, no sir, it did not. Vic Schwenk was one of the first men I hired—the first, in fact—and he was highly recommended by Pete Rozelle."

"But the image of pro football is changing and I don't think it's necessary at all to have a man with an extensive football background—in fact I don't think any football experience is necessary—to be a general manager."

"We are dealing with a different kind of player today, the Saints have 81,000 people who see their games every week and there's big television money involved," he said. "Let's face it, this is about a $6 million proposition and what we need is a business executive."

"There is a militant players association now—I don't think it's strong, but it is militant and we need a business executive to handle these kinds of matters."

Porks Again Forced Indoors

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mervin Johnson, Arkansas Razorback defensive coach, said Thursday the Porkers may be forced to practice Saturday in preparation for the Dec. 20 Liberty Bowl game because bad weather had kept the workouts indoors this week.

A steady rain forced the Hogs to work inside Thursday for the second consecutive day. Coach Frank Broyles was in Dallas for a Southwest Conference meeting and missed the session.

"We had a good snappy workout," said Johnson. "However, we really wanted to work outside on our passing and kicking game."

He said the Razorbacks planned to rely heavily on the kicking game because of the strong Tennessee defense. The Volunteers will be Arkansas's opponent for the contest.

Jones Breaks Slump of Season in Bahama

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

FREEMONT, G.B.I. (AP) — Grier Jones credited an improved mental attitude with helping him break out of a season-long slump this week.

Jones was six-under-par 65 for the first Thursday after carding a sterling, six-under-par 65 for the first round lead in the $130,000 Bahama Islands Open Golf Tournament, the last event on the pro schedule this year.

"My attitude was a little negative most of the year," said Jones, once a pro Rookie of the Year but a struggling also ran this season.

"I started expecting to hit bad shots, and when that's what you're expecting, that's what you'll do."

"So I just came out a couple of weeks ago and told myself I've got to work hard and have a better attitude. It's helped."

Jones, winner of only $26,000 this season and 78th on the money list, held a one-stroke lead over big George Archer and U.S. Ryder Cup star J.C. Snead, tied for second at 66.

Bert Yancey and 51-year-old Julius Boros were next at 67 with a group of four tied at 68. They were Curtis Sifford, who had a hole in one. Bruce Fleisher, George Johnson and Harry Toscano. Defending champion Doug Sanders was far back after a 75.

Most of the game's big names—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Billy Casper and Gary Player—skipped this national championship being played the 6,805-yard, par-71 Lucayan Country Club course.

"I really played good," said Jones, who had only one bogey—when he hit a tee shot into an unplayable lie in the defense, tropical bush on the 15th hole.

"You got to keep it out of those bushes," he said. "You hit it two feet into that stuff and you might not be able to find the ball. This course can scare you."

He had seven birdies, five of them on putts in the 12-18 foot range.

"I putted real good," he said "and that's where this game is."

He hit an eight iron shot to within less than a foot on the 12th hole for a duce and punched a nine iron to two feet on the 16th for his other birdies, closing out his round with a 15-foot birdie putt that gave him the lead alone.

Juveniles Have Chance at Liberty

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Riva Ridge has clinched the 2-year-old championship and is through for the year, but there is still some good money to be had at Liberty Bell Park Saturday—and some good juveniles will be after it.

A field of eight or nine 2-year-olds is expected for the $50,000-added Heritage Stakes.

Heritage probably includes Joseph M. Stavola's Freetex, winner of the Kindergarten at Liberty Bell and runner-up to Riva Ridge in the Garden State; J. A. Logan's Merry Native, a five-time stakes winner in the Midwest; and Herbert Allen's Drum Fire, third to Riva Ridge in the Pimlico-Laurel Futurity.

The one-mile, $25,000-added December Handicap for 3-year-olds and up is expected to draw such a crowd that it will be split. Some probabilities are Terrible Tiger, Tunex, Cold Comfort and Silver Mallet.

A field of eight fillies and mares is likely for the six-furlong, $20,000-added First Lady Handicap at Laurel. Royal Signal, winner of the Endine Handicap, is high-weighted at 121 pounds.

Insubordination, top-weighted at 125, will give from two to 12 pounds to eight others entered Thursday for the six-furlong, $20,000-added Coral Gables Handicap at Tropical Park. Others entered included Great Mystery, 123, and Coup Landing, 121.

squeezed past Arkansas Tech 79-75.

The Scots overcame a nine-point halftime lead by Tech to trip the Wonder Boys.

A number of turnovers and a 20 per cent shooting average from the field in the second half allowed the Scots to come from behind.

The Los Angeles Lakers have the whole town talking ... and the other National Basketball Association teams talking to themselves.

The Lakers continued to ride high Thursday night, winning their 19th straight game with a 124-111 decision over the Golden State Warriors.

Los Angeles now is one short of the NBA record for consecutive victories and get a chance to tie Milwaukee's mark in tonight's contest against the Phoenix Suns.

The Suns' current eight-game winning streak has been buried in all the fuss over the amazing Laker drive—but they continued to play hot ball with a 135-115 triumph over the Atlanta Hawks Thursday night.

In the only other NBA game, the Detroit Pistons defeated the Chicago Bulls 110-107.

In American Basketball Association action, it was Virginia

For the second night in a row, the Lakers' backcourt scored more than 70 points.

Jerry West scored 39 and Gail Goodrich had 36 to help the Los Angeles cause.

Los Angeles built a 24-point lead in the third quarter before the Warriors rallied behind Cazzie Russell to cut the margin to 111-105 with four minutes to play. Goodrich and West each hit a jump shot to build the margin to 10 points, putting the game on ice.

Connie Hawkins scored 17 points in the first half to help Phoenix streak to an insurmountable 66-44 lead at intermission.

Paced by Jimmy Walker and Bob Lanier, Detroit rallied from deficits of 21 points in the second quarter and 10 with 4:28 left in the game to beat the stubborn Bulls.

Colonels Down Indiana Pacers in ABA Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Indiana Pacers had as much trouble with the referees in their American Basketball Association game against Kentucky Thursday night as they did with the Colonels.

Indiana almost wiped out a 19-point Kentucky lead but bowed to the Colonels 103-101 in a game which saw four technical fouls charged against the Pacers.

Elsewhere in the ABA Thursday night, Virginia nipped the New York Nets 115-114 in overtime and Pittsburgh downed Dallas 124-113.

In the National Basketball Association, Detroit downed Chicago 110-107, Phoenix battered Atlanta 136-115 and Los Angeles trimmed Golden State 124-111.

The Pacers played the final period without a coach on the bench. Both head man Bob Leonard and assistant Bobby Joe Hooper were ejected from the game following violent arguments with the refs before the final period.

At the time, Indiana was trailing 88-69. But after the two coaches were ejected, the Pacers exploded, shaving Kentucky's lead to 101-100 with one minute left.

Jim O'Brien's basket gave the Colonels a three-point cushion with 54 seconds remaining and after Rick Mount missed a three-point try, time ran out on the Pacers who managed only a last second foul shot by Marv Winkler.

Mount had 10 of his 20 points in the last quarter Indiana rally while Artis Gilmore led Kentucky with 34.

Julius Erving scored an acrobatic dunk shot to tie the game in regulation time and then dropped a pair of free throws with three seconds remaining in the overtime to give Virginia its narrow victory over New York.

Charlie Scott led the Squires with 35 points while Erving hit 29. Rick Barry led the Nets with 29.

John Brisker's 37 points led a balanced Pittsburgh attack that swept the Condors past Dallas. George Carter had 27 and George Thompson 26 for the winners.

Don Freeman led Dallas with 26.

shouldn't be forgotten.

San Diego 27, Denver 17—John Hadl still is able to get the Chargers' offense going, particularly when they're not going against a very strong team. Broncos lack punch.

Green Bay 21, Chicago 14—John Brockington of Packers seeking to become only fourth rookie to hit 1,000-yard mark rushing. He gets it here.

Cincinnati 28, Pittsburgh 14—The Steelers appear to be way, way down. The Bengals, however, will have to avoid a let-down after being eliminated from title contention.

Philadelphia 27, St. Louis 20—Eagles ripped Cardinals three weeks ago and there's nothing to suggest the Cards have improved or the Eagles faltered.

Houston 24, Buffalo 20—The battle for the No. 1 draft pick. The winner loses. The Oilers will win the game; the Bills will get the No. 1 selection.

Lead in Bahama Golf Tournament

FREEMONT, G.B.I. (AP) — R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., shot a 73 Thursday in the first round of the $130,000 Bahama Islands Open Golf Tournament here.

Dick Crawford of Little Rock, Ark., had a 74 following the first round.

Geier Jones held the lead after the first day at 65.

La. Tech Meets E. Michigan in Pioneer Bowl

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — It will be a test of rugged defense against explosive offense Saturday at 1 p.m. when No. 3 ranked Eastern Michigan and No. 4 ranked Louisiana Tech collide in the first annual Pioneer Bowl College Division classic at Memorial Stadium.

The game, which will be played in the city's two-year-old 15,000 seat arena, will be televised regionally by ABC and will be the first clash in the biggest football doubleheader Wichita Falls has ever posted.

No. 1 ranked Wichita Falls High will go against No. 3 Dallas Carter in a Class AAAA Schoolboy semifinals bout at 8 p.m. More than 35,000—and possibly 40,000 fans will sit in on the two games.

Eastern Michigan and Louisiana Tech will decide the championship of the Midwest Region in the first college football game to be played here since 1956 when Midwestern University was a member of the old Gulf Coast Conference.

Eastern Michigan's powerful defense was the backbone of the Hurons' 7-0-2 season. The Mid-American Conference champs are led by two-time All-American Dave Purefory, a 6-3, 235 defensive tackle and defensive back John Hicks. The Hurons have allowed one touchdown in their last five games to become one of only five unbeaten college division teams in the nation.

Saturday, however, Eastern Michigan will draw its greatest test of the season in explosive Louisiana Tech. Coach Dan Boisture said, "We can't afford to give them the ball very often ... they can score quickly and from any spot on the field."

Tech, the Southland Conference Co-champion, will be making its third bowl appearance in four years. Coach Maxie Lambright said this one "is the most gratifying" since the Bulldogs were picked no higher than third in the Southland race.

The Bulldogs sped to an impressive 8-2 record on the passing of Ken Lantrip and the running of Charlie "quick six" McDaniel. Lantrip, who spent his first two seasons in the shadow of Terry Bradshaw, smashed virtually all of Bradshaw's school records in 1971.

Earlier in the year, against Northeast La., Lantrip set a

Small Schools Battle it Out in Bowl Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College football's heavyweights like Alabama, Nebraska, Oklahoma, LSU and the others are still in the tuneup stages for their post-season bowl dates, but the little guys are jumping right into action.

There are seven post-season clashes scheduled among the smaller schools this weekend and you can bet pro scouts will be watching each of them closely.

In the Boardwalk Bowl at Atlantic City, N.J., for example, C. W. Post faces Delaware with a pair of Little All America players sharing the showcase. Post has quarterback Gary Wichard at the helm of the offense and Delaware's attack depends largely on Garry Kahoe, a halfback.

Wichard made The Associated Press Little All America by completing 145 of 271 passes for 2,287 yards and 23 touchdowns this season. Kahoe was named after leading the nation's small college rushers by averaging 121.6 yards per game. He also scored 23 TDs. Post is 8-2 and Delaware, 9-1, is rated the No. 1 small college team in the nation.

In other games Saturday, McNeese State places its unbeaten record of 9-0-1 on the line against Tennessee State, 81, in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Baton Rouge, La., and Carson-Newman, 9-2, faces Fairmont, W. Va., 7-2, in the Share Bowl at Knoxville, Tenn.

Also, Louisiana Tech, 8-2, meets Western Michigan, 7-3, in the Pioneer Bowl at Wichita Falls, Tex., Boise State, 9-2, plays Chico State, 9-2, in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif., and Florida A&M, 5-4, takes on Kentucky State, 8-2, in the Orange Blossom Classic at Miami.

Completing the schedule is the NAIA Division title game with Arkansas Tech, 12-0, playing Livingston, Ala. State, 9-1.

Warm Home at Reasonable Cost

By MR. FIX

Are you getting the most heat for your money? If your heating bills get continuously higher, chances are your heating plant is getting proportionately less efficient and you are not getting all the comfort you are paying for.

Assuming there are no major mechanical deficiencies that need professional attention, it is possible for the ordinary home owner to get more heat for his money. Mostly it's an application of common sense, the ability to spot problems and correct them.

Take care of the obvious things first. If windows and doors are letting in drafts they also are letting out warm air. Storm sashes and weather stripping can make a room more comfortable without increasing the amount of heat from your furnace.

Check the putty around windows. See that window and door frames are properly caulked.

If the house is as snug as you can make it, give some attention to the furnace.

Maybe the furnace is producing plenty of heat that just isn't being distributed. In a warm air heating plant poor air distribution means inefficient heating.

Forced air systems are equipped with filters. If you remove the filter you will get more air distribution but at the same time get more dirt and dust circulating. A clean filter is the nearest thing to no filter. Replace filters before they become too dirty.

Dirt can stop air distribution at other points. Check and clean room registers and cold air returns. They should be vacuumed every time the carpet is vacuumed. At least once every winter registers should be dismantled and cleaned.

Brush or vacuum the fan blades on the blower at regular intervals.

Cirrhosis Means Scarring of Liver

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am writing to you for some information regarding cirrhosis of the liver and cancer of the liver. Are they dangerous? May they be operated on? Is surgery successful in either one? How long does a person live afterward? Please answer the true facts, if you will.

Dear Reader—Cirrhosis is simply scarring of the liver. If the liver is damaged and in the process develops scars, it is called cirrhosis. There are many reasons for liver damage, including toxins or poisons, infections, alcohol, poor diet and even heart failure. How important it is and what needs to be done depend entirely on how badly the liver is damaged. A mild case of cirrhosis may cause very little difficulty, whereas a case with lots of liver damage can progress to "liver failure," resulting in coma and death. Unless there is some factor like obstruction to the drainage of the bile or a problem in the circulation that can be helped, there usually is no reason for surgery. The vast majority of patients with cirrhosis of the liver are properly treated with medical management, which includes diet and medicines.

Cancer of the liver is an entirely different matter, although there is some evidence that some types of cancer of the liver are more common in cirrhosis caused by poor diets. Cancer of the liver often is the result of the spread of cancer from some other location in the body, as from the bowel.

Surgery has nothing to offer in most cases. Sometimes removal of obstruction to the bile duct or removal of a small tumor, not necessarily a cancer, is important. Remember, not all tumors or masses are cancer.

It is not possible to say what to expect of a cancer unless it is known how widespread it is or if it is localized to a small area and what type of cancer it really is. These facts are important in deciding what type of treatment must be given. For example, cancer of the prostate gland with spread to other areas of the body can often be controlled with good results for years by a treatment program that includes hormones.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Would eating a half-pound of beef liver raw each week be hurting me? I don't like it cooked, only raw.

Dear Reader—It won't hurt you if it is obtained from a healthy animal, which should be the case if purchased from a modern meat market. In some areas of the world, raw camel's liver is considered a delicacy. To be perfectly frank with you, even the thought of eating raw liver doesn't do a lot for my appetite. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

SOME MAIL IS SLOW
PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A bank here didn't bear from one of its borrowers at the appointed time in June, 1970, and mentioned it to him. He vowed he'd mailed the $40 payment.

Recently mail exonerated him. The bank got a letter dated June 21, 1970, and enclosed was a $40 check dated the same day. It apparently had been mailed a year and four months earlier by the man who lived 12 blocks from the bank.

MAN WAS A NEWCOMER
DINOSAUR, Colo. (AP)—Over 140 million years ago giant crocodiles and dinosaurs left their mark and their bones in the rocks here, making man, who arrived in the region 25,000 years ago, very much of a newcomer.

with your hand while the furnace is on. If you feel warm air escaping, seal the joints with aluminum-coated duct tape.

Ducts have dampers to control the flow of air through them. The damper is a movable plate inside the duct with a handle on the outside you use for adjusting. Closing the damper will block the flow of air to a particular register.

It will take some experimenting but you can adjust the flow of heat in your home by adjusting the dampers. By partially closing one damper to a room that is getting too much heat and opening full the damper in a duct leading to a cooler room you can make both rooms more comfortable.

Heat that leaks out of the duct leading from the furnace is heat that never enters your rooms. Check all joints. You can test them

a parable

We have loved this top hero story since childhood. A boy from the country, unused to war, meets the giant Philistine warrior. It is quiet faith arrayed against arrogant boasting... the rustic sling with a stone in it against the great spear in the hand of might. How unequal will be the combat! But watch the deeper battle... reverence against evil. The giant is against all good and is confident victory must go to the strong. David stands for spirituality upon which civilization must rest. Thus the story is a parable of human life, in which the struggle between good and evil goes on forever in combat for the souls of us all. Evil has noise, power and wealth for support. But back of the struggle is the faith that "Right is right as God is God, and right the day must win." Then read God's word and support His church with your means and your presence, and say with Sir Galahad, "My strength is the strength of ten, because my heart is pure."

Enemy Downs Five Choppers

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces shot down five U.S. helicopters and three South Vietnamese aircraft in South Vietnam and Cambodia and damaged three American rescue helicopters, field reports said today.

At least two Americans were killed and seven were wounded. There was no report of South Vietnamese casualties.

Along the Laotian-North Viet-name border, a surface-to-air missile was fired at a flight of U.S. B52 bombers and their F105 fighter escort but missed. The escort attacked the missile site with Shrike missiles but results were not known, the U.S. Command said.

A third day of fighting was reported in eastern Cambodia. Field reports said South Vietnamese troops wearing gas masks and North Vietnamese troops fired tear gas at each other.

Despite claims of heavy enemy tolls for three days now, there were reports the South Vietnamese paratroopers were winding up their sweep around the big North Vietnamese base camp at Dam Be, 30 miles from the border, and were moving to another area.

With 1287 North Vietnamese claimed killed, field officers said the paratroopers had done their job—searching the area, finding the enemy and calling in air strikes.

Two of the U.S. helicopters lost, a big CH47 Chinook and a Cobra gunship, and two South Vietnamese helicopters and a light observation plane were shot down Thursday and today while supporting the operations in Cambodia, reports from the field said. No American casualties were reported.

The three other helicopters downed were supporting South Vietnamese troops in a massive sweep through the U Minh forest, deep in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta.

Two OH6 light observation helicopters were shot down almost simultaneously Thursday while flying at treetop level searching for a landing zone for South Vietnamese reinforcements in the U Minh.

South Vietnamese forces already in the area had marked their positions with a smoke grenade and radioed that they had secured a 400-yard perimeter. The helicopters were within the perimeter when the North Vietnamese opened fire. They crashed within 75 yards of each other.

A UH1 command and control helicopter flew through heavy enemy fire to land at the site of one of the crashes within five minutes, and the aircraft commander and the door gunner were wounded. Despite his wounds, the door gunner jumped out and pulled the two crewmen from the crashed chopper to safety. One was wounded, the other badly shaken up.

The two crewmen aboard the second downed helicopter were believed still alive when the helicopter crashed, but the craft exploded and they were killed.

Cambodia Has No Strong Fight Force

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American officials in Saigon think the Cambodian army is a long way from becoming an effective fighting force, and the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong could take over the entire country if they wanted to.

Highly placed officials estimate Communist forces now control as much as 80 per cent of Cambodia and can do anything they want.

"But their goal is the defeat of South Vietnam," said one source.

"As long as the South Vietnamese have enough forces to keep the North Vietnamese out and free access to go across the border, harass them and cut off their supplies, it will be difficult for them to mount a successful invasion of Military Region 3."

Military Region 3 is the most critical of South Vietnam's four regions. It includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces and shares 231 miles of border with Cambodia.

According to latest intelligence estimates, there are about 80,000 enemy troops in Cambodia, and about two-thirds of them are North Vietnamese. Intelligence officers say the ultimate mission of about 60,000 of these troops is South Vietnam, the other 20,000 are support troops.

Officials in Saigon believe the enemy's mission in Cambodia now is to secure his supply lines and bases. They think his attacks on Cambodian forces are politically motivated in part, a show of strength.

"The North Vietnamese are sensitive to world opinion," says one official. "They could take Cambodia in a week if they tried, if they cut loose everything they had. But the North Vietnamese army taking over a foreign country is not a war of liberation."

"World opinion would be against a North Vietnamese takeover, a foreign invasion. But world opinion has overlooked the North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam because they are both Vietnamese and they can keep this in the ball park as a war of liberation. The North Vietnamese leaned heavily on this because they are associated with the Viet Cong, or the National Liberation Front, in the south."

Senior U.S. and South Vietnamese officers consider the Cambodian conduct of their own defense to be confused and contradictory. These are some of their assessments:

"The Cambodian army is in essence a good, long way from an effective fighting force. They made some progress, but setbacks along the northeastern front and around Phnom Penh recently have really hurt."

"Their big weakness is leadership, which is really crucial to any developing army. The South Vietnamese are just now reaching the point of getting good leadership on their operations after all these years."

Officers at Memphis Are Indicted

By BYRON DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A black sheriff's lieutenant, two sheriff's patrolmen and a city police officer have been indicted on first-degree murder charges in the beating death of a black teenager.

The Shelby County grand jury also indicted four other policemen on charges of assault to murder and a police inspector with neglect of duty. The indictments were returned Thursday.

All but the sheriff's lieutenant are white and all have been released on bond.

The indictments stem from the fatal beating Oct. 15 of Elton Hayes, 17, who died after he and two companions were arrested following a police auto chase. His death was blamed for five days of racial violence here.

Police had reported that Hayes died from injuries received when the pickup truck in which he was a passenger ran into a ditch. But an autopsy report said he died from two blows to the head.

Sheriff Roy C. Nixon, his voice cracking and eyes filled with tears, told a news conference that Lt. Theodore R. Wilks, 38, and two of his patrolmen had been charged with first-degree murder. The patrolmen are Edward M. Bonham, 24, and Johnny L. Roberts, 21.

Memphis Patrolman Michael J. Dougherty also was charged with first-degree murder.

Charged with assault to murder are policemen William L. Graves, James B. Dyer, Larry R. Skelton and Danny L. Davis, who were released on $2,500 bond.

Bond for those charged with murder was set at $10,000. Police Inspector Harold Ray was charged with neglect of duty and released on bond of $500.

The indictments climaxed a two-month investigation by the district attorney's office and three days of testimony before a jury of ten whites and three blacks.

May Publish Howard Hughes' Autobiography

By HARRY WISE
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former top associate of billionaire recluse Howard Hughes says "there may be some authenticity" to a purported Hughes' autobiography.

The associate, Noah Dietrich, said the book could not have resulted from face-to-face interviews, as its publisher claims, but that the information could have come from Hughes in other ways.

In announcing Tuesday that it would publish the book next spring, McGraw-Hill Book Co. said it would be based on interviews writer Clifford Irving held with Hughes "in various motel rooms and parked cars throughout the western hemisphere."

Dietrich said Hughes' poor health ruled out any traveling and made it impossible for Hughes to write himself.

"He was in his room four years in Las Vegas without leaving it once," Dietrich said in a telephone interview, "and he never left his room in the Bahamas after he moved there."

Dietrich recently retired after 32 years as one of Hughes' closest business advisers.

He said he had heard several months ago that Irving had had an interview with Hughes in the Bahamas.

Dietrich said the first meeting between Irving and Hughes took place when Irving was ushered into a Bahamas hotel

Campaigners Get College Credit

BOSTON (AP) — Boston State College says it will give academic credit to students who work actively in national presidential primaries along the Eastern Seaboard.

Kermit C. Morrissey, college president, said Thursday the student political activity would be half of a six-credit course entitled "Presidential Politics, 1972."

Morrissey said the other part of the course would involve an academic study of past and present presidential campaigns.

Mostly Youths Involved in Drug Roundup

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Officers of the West Memphis Police Department Thursday identified the persons arrested Wednesday in massive drug raids in Crittenden County.

Twenty-three of the 24 arrested were from West Memphis. They were charged with possession of a controlled substance, a misdemeanor, or sale of a controlled substance, a felony, or both.

Spokesmen for Hughes Tool Co. have denied that such an autobiography exists.

Dietrich said Hughes' deteriorating health resulted from three major aircraft crashes and a serious automobile accident.

Also, said Dietrich, "all he cared about was his work, his goals. He lived like an animal, eating only when he was starving, sleeping only when he was exhausted."
